

National Inventory of Career Development Education / Training Programs and Courses July 2019

In an effort to provide both aspiring and practicing Career Development Practitioners with current information regarding in person, online, and blended career development education / training programs and courses across Canada the Canadian Council for Career Development (3CD) Certification Working Group will be maintaining an Inventory of Career Development Education / Training Programs and Courses. This inventory will be reviewed and updated on an annual basis and made available on the 3CD website, on provincial career development association websites, and via career development partners.

Education / training programs and courses are offered through both accredited educational institutions and private training providers across Canada. Provincial career development associations establish their own criteria regarding the eligibility of education / training programs and courses for the CCDP designation. Programs and courses listed below may not be accepted by the association you are applying for certification through. Please refer to your certifying body regarding their education eligibility standard before enrolling in a program if you are taking the education / training specifically to apply for the CCDP designation. Professional development programs that do not result in a certificate, diploma, or degree are not included as part of this inventory.

If you are aware of education / training programs and courses that are not listed below, or if the information provided is not accurate, please contact Paula Wischoff Yerama, 3CD Certification Working Group Chair, at ed@careerdevelopment.ab.ca.
